A structured interview (also known as a standardized interview or a researcher-administered survey) is a quantitative research method commonly employed in survey research. The aim of this approach is to ensure that each interview is presented with exactly the same questions in the same order. This ensures that answers can be reliably aggregated and that comparisons can be made with confidence ...

Testing is a process rather than a single activity. This process starts from test planning then designing test cases, preparing for execution and evaluating status till the test closure. So, we can divide the activities within the fundamental test process into the following basic steps:

What is fundamental test process in software testing?

Most interview guides throw a lot of information at you, but they make two big mistakes: 1) They don't explain which topics are most important and what bankers want to hear in your responses. 2) They don't explain how to prepare efficiently. Yes, itâ€™s nice to have a 77,823-page guideâ€”but what if you only have 1 week, or 2 days, or 4 hours, to prepare for your interview?
