The history of chemistry represents a time span from ancient history to the present. By 1000 BC, civilizations used technologies that would eventually form the basis of the various branches of chemistry. Examples include extracting metals from ores, making pottery and glazes, fermenting beer and wine, extracting chemicals from plants for medicine and perfume, rendering fat into soap, making ...

Experimental work was performed using five identical filters (effective volume was 5 l) containing approximately 3.75 l (as dry) of granular AC. Four commercial ACs denoted as A-D were tested. Carbons A, B and D were selected because they are acid washed and to be used in industrial applications requiring high purity.
