The State Duma or Imperial Duma was the Lower House, part of the legislative assembly in the late Russian Empire, which held its meetings in the Taurida Palace in St. Petersburg. It convened four times between 27 April 1906 and the collapse of the Empire in February 1917. The First and the Second Dumas were more democratic and represented a greater number of national types than their successors.

Executive Summary. In the early 1990s there was a growing awareness among many, but particularly those in the community and in philanthropic sectors, that policy approaches taken to address the problems of urban populations, especially socio-economic conditions associated with African American men were punitive, regressive and, in the long-run, cloudy.

Over the past two years, state legislators across the country have launched an unprecedented series of initiatives aimed at lowering labor standards, weakening unions, and eroding workplace protections for both union and non-union workers. This policy agenda undercuts the ability of low- and middle-wage workers, both union and non-union, to earn a decent wage.
