Hello Will, Great article. A proper review of the show. It's interesting that in the past you've used a thicker acrylic medium to create an "impasto" effect on a ground for one of your Venice paintings, and I assume Monet must have used thick oil paint (multi-layer?) on his Rouen paintings to get a very similar, rough textured effect.

If you are painting oil-based paint on top of latex paint then you have to prime the latex first. Latex paint and oil-based paint expand and contract at two different rates. So, if you paint oil-based paint on top of a latex paint without priming first, the latex will flex so much underneath that the oil-paint will quickly fail.
