government employees—mainly teachers, police officers, and fire fighters—date back to the 19th century. The teachers' pension plan of New Jersey, which was established in 1896, is probably the oldest retirement plan for government employees. By the early 1900s, a number of municipalities and local governments had set

HISTORY UNITED STATES

The political history of the world is the history of the various political entities created by the human race throughout their existence and the way these states define their borders. Throughout history, political entities have expanded from basic systems of self-governance and monarchy to the complex democratic and totalitarian systems that exist today. In parallel, political systems have expanded from vaguely defined frontier-type boundaries, to the national definite boundaries existing today.
